What do you love about being a woman in your specific industry? I love being my authentic self and working with interdisciplinary teams who share my passion and curiosity for humankind and the future of the planet we call home.

As a woman, what do you bring that is unique to the industry? I bring an inquiring mind rooted in deep remembering. I shape space by listening through light, texture and quiet moments that invite presence. I don't impose, I reveal.

How do you celebrate yourself? I keep my work reflective, rooted in values, and innovative. I take time for stillness, nature and loved ones. This keeps me grounded.

What advice do you have for other women starting out in this industry? Be a chameleon. Keep transforming by expanding your awareness and knowledge. Know the rules, but trust your instinct. Be more than curious – innovate. Build your own path and own every step.

A woman to me is ... unapologetic. She feels with purpose and builds with intent. She is the flowing energy that shapes the future – visionary, grounded, unstoppable but always kind.
